About Me:

Dear Hiring Manager,

My Name is Kyron and the things i enjoy most are Games and Tech, this is anywhere in between from the newest Hardware to the latest Game releases, but what i most enjoy is Testing and Exploting Games to the fullest using in game "Features" and in terms of IT i enjoy Building my own Computers aswell as helping friends and family Troubleshoot various Technically issues from setting up a gaming server to Random Windows Technical issues.

What I have Studied

I have studied a couple of Subjects but the Main ones that are Relevant are My "Diploma of Screen and Media(Animation,GamingandVisualEffects) " Aswell as my Cert III in ICT, lets start with the Game Design Diploma, in this course i studied well the process from start to finish on how to create a game from the starting of Blocking out a scene to Populating it with Assets aswell as Scriping those assets using C# to create Unique Gameplay elements in the scene

Now for the Cert III in ICT, i learnt a couple differnt diciplines while studieing including basic to intermediate coding inside of HTML and CSS to create a very simple website of our own, this course also had us learning how to thread and make our own Ethernet Cables and basic Routing of Cables, and basic Troublshooting using Windows, now since this ive gone and extended my own knowledge on these subjects.

Why I am Interested

I am looking for an apporunity to apply my skills I have developed through study and personal learning in a real workplace environment, and building a long-term career. I Enjoy learning and Expanding the Boundaries of my own Knowledge and am Highly Motivated to do these things, Im just needing a chance to get some proper hands on and in world experience to expand my current knoweldge futher then what its currently at, since there is always a limit to how much you can learn on your own

This is why i believe working At your company would expand these Ideas and my own knowledge and Foundation further and would prove to be a truly beneficial opportunity to strenghten my skills and begin building my career .

Thank you for your time and considering my application, i am avaiable for interviews and can be reached preferably by email.

Sincerly
Kyron Porter
